CONTENTS.

	PAGE
Editor's Address	1
Ode to the New Year. By W. R. V.	5
The Speculator in Spite of Himself. A Sketch. By R. B. Peake, Esq. (The Comic Dramatist)	9
Kindred Meads. By Isabel Hill	16
A Legend for our Sailors. By Walter Ellis	24
Original Letter. By Edmund Kean	26
Pearls of Price. A Military Sketch. By the Editor	27
Sonnet. The Woods. By Robert Bigsby, Esq.	39
On the French Fictions now most Popular in England. By Walter Ellis	40
An Ideal of Lady Burghersh's Picture. By Isabel Hill	46
The Spell-Bound Moor	47
Morceaux—Original and Rare:—Editorial Enjoyments	73
Sicilian Superstitions	77
Reviews of the Month	78, 192, 320, 415, 533, 655
Notes of the Month	102, 212
Fine Arts, Exhibitions, &c.	105
An English Heart. By the late Isabel Hill	119
Wellington. By Charles Swain, Esq.	122
The Two John Smiths. By R. B. Peake, Esq.	123
The Ruler of the Mighty Sea. By Lewis Way, Esq.	133
Continental Literati:—
No. 1.—C. Paul de Kock	134
No. 2.—H. De Balzac	463
No. 3.—George Sand	578
The Church of England. By Charles Swain, Esq.	142
A Sample of Champagne. By W. R. V.	143
A Winter's Tale. By Walter Ellis	145
Professor Bibundtucker's Remains:—No. 1	148
No. 2	238
Letter from the Prince of Wales to Mistress Elinor Poins. By Isabel Hill	152
On the Present State of Music in England. By Colonel F. Wilkie	154, 384
The Military in Mufti. By the Editor	157
Ode to Miss Adelaide Kemble. By W. R. V.	161
Stray Leaves from my Journal. By the Old Forest Ranger	162
The Praise of Porter. A Lay in Six Fyttes	169
Rival Tudor-ites, a Tale of the Reformation	173, 227, 354, 503, 608
Memoir of the late Isabel Hill. By her Brother	181
Malgré Lui. By the late T. Haynes Bayly, Esq.	219
A Rival's Praise. By Walter Ellis	224
Time and Change. By Charles Swain, Esq.	237
On a Sailor Confined in the Fleet. By W. R. V.	243
Exclusive Report of a New Grand English Opera. Communicated by the Editor	244
A Dream of the Forest. By Henry Spicer, Esq.	257
Little Jacob. By Wilhelm Hauf	259
Prospects of the Ministry	273
Impromptu. By W. R. V.	280

	PAGE
Extracts from the Old Forest Ranger's Private Journal:—Chap. I.	281
Chap. II.	495
Chap. III.	625
Come Hallow the Goblet. By Charles Swain, Esq.	294
Anecdotes of Ibrahim Pasha. By Major C. Rochfort Scott	295
A Cento to the King of Prûssia	303
The Drama and "Old Drury"	305
Epigrams from the Dutch	319, 371
Gaining by a Loss. By the Editor	331
Jeune Fille et Jeune Fleur. By Henry Spicer, Esq.	336
Extraordinary Proceedings of a New Learned Society	337
To a Fair Poet, who wrote lightly of the Pantheon. By the late Isabel Hill	340
The British Parliament. By the Author of "The Critic in Parliament"	342
The Old Nurse's Tale. By Miss Emily Spicer	352
The Requital. By Thomas Ragg, Esq.	367
The Poet's Class	368
The Uncle and Nephew. By Wilhelm Hauf	372
Southey and Wordsworth. By Dr. Mackenzie	382
Sympathy. By Charles Swain, Esq.	389
On the Law of Marriage	390
And Every Soul Perished. By George Raymond, Esq.	395
Stray Pages from a Traveller's Journal. By Major Rochfort Scott:—
No. 1.—A Winter's Ride across the Lebanon	398
No. 2.—A Tour through the Kesrouan	593
The Fleas. By Walter Ellis	412
The Postmaster	443
Love's Pilgrim. By Henry Spicer, Esq.	459
The Taskwork of Authorship. By R. Skelton Mackenzie, LL.D.	473
The Enchanted Tissue. By the Editor	475
Sympathy. By Walter Ellis	479
Spain and the Court of the Tuileries	481
The Dying Swan—a Fact. By the late Isabel Hill	494
The Golden City. By Charles Swain	502
The Property Tax, and New Commercial Tariff	518
The Tagus and the Indus. By Captain Pepper	525
The Wig no Conservative	532
The Ranger's Bride. By the late Isabel Hill	555
Semele. A Dramatic Sketch. By Henry Spicer, Esq.	567
Anacreontic. By Walter Ellis	591
Geneive	606
June: an Idyl. By Robert Bigsby, Esq.	623
Love's Vigil. By the late Isabel Hill	632
A Gossip on Sight Seeing. By the Editor	635